

Good Morning, students!

Welcome to our virtual classroom! One of the best things you can do at home is READ. Fortunately, most of us chose novels before the Coronation started. If you have yours, GREAT! Use that. Those of you without novels have options. Check this out:

Delaware County Library System:

Stuck at home? Wish you had a library card so you could check out an eBook? No problem! Just email your name, address, phone number, and birthday to support@delcolibraries.org and we'll email you back a barcode that you can use to access eBooks, audiobooks, magazines, newspapers, and all of our other online resources!

Comcast also has a program for some free (temporary) WiFi.

Families without internet access can call this number (1-855-846-8376) to see if they are eligible for 60 days of free internet service through the Comcast Internet Essentials program.

So we are encouraging you to do the following:

1. Read! Every day, for 20-30 minutes. Get comfy, grab a snack, and just read. No headphones or TV while you do it, OK?
2. Start and keep a Reading Journal. Entries should be about the front of one page, each. We have included a "Reader's Response: Talk About Books" sheet in case you can't think of anything to write. Please don't reuse topics! Select a new topic for each entry. If you'd like, you can post your Journal in the thread below as a class comment, rather than writing on paper.

★ None of this is mandatory and it will not be counted for a grade.
